PROGRAM OVERVIEW

CompTIA CTT+ Examination: An Overview

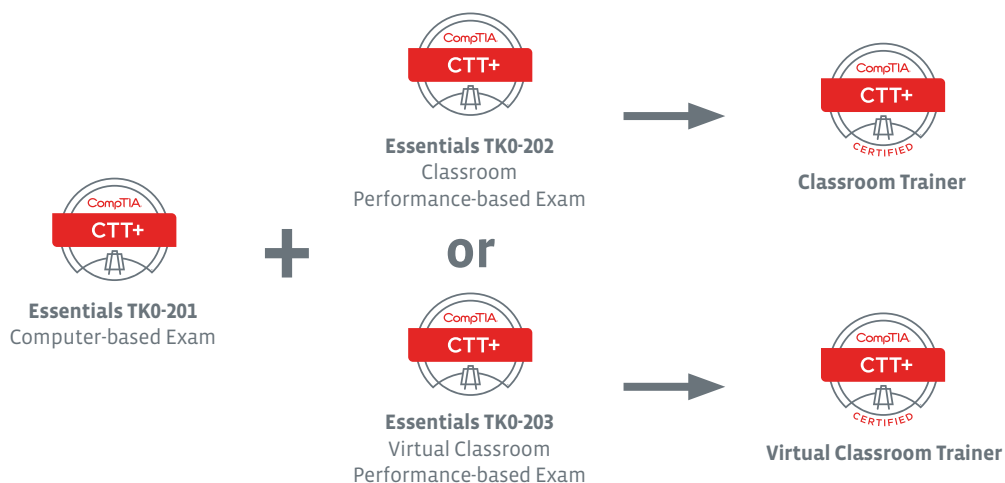

The CTT+ certification program provides a globally recognized measure of core skills, actions, and behaviors that competent instructors must demonstrate. The certification validated an instructor's proven excellence in preparation, presentation, communication, facilitation and evaluation in a classroom environment.

The CTT+ certificate is a cross-industry credential that provides recognition that an instructor has attained a standard of excellence in the training industry.

The examinations are based on a set of objectives designed to measure the core knowledge and skills that competent instructors must successfully demonstrate to complete an instructional assignment successfully both in a classroom and a virtual classroom environment.

This certification is targeted towards all training professionals and can be applied to all industries that provide technical and non-technical training and education.

To earn the CTT+ designation, candidate must pass both a computer-based test (CTT+ Essentials TK0-201) that assesses knowledge and a performance-based exam (TK0-202 or TK0-203) in which the candidate demonstrates prescribed skills.

Candidates interested in earning CompTIA CTT+ certification with either the Classroom Trainer or Virtual Classroom Trainer designation must first take and pass the CompTIA CTT+ Essentials (CompTIA CTT+ TK0-201) exam (This exam is only required one time and then submit a recording online of their classroom or virtual classroom training session (CompTIA CTT+ TK0-202 and/or CompTIA CTT+ TK0-203) which will be evaluated and scored.

Types of Exam, Score Reports and Interpretation

CTT+ ESSENTIALS: COMPUTER-BASED EXAM

Candidates should have familiarity with the subject matter of each question on the computer-based test. Each question is scored separately, and only correct responses contribute to a candidate's final score. Candidates should choose the best answer for each question.

A score report will be provided to test takers immediately upon completion of CompTIA CTT+ Essentials exam (computer-based exam).

CTT+ PERFORMANCE-BASED EXAMS

The final score on the CompTIA CTT+ performance-based exam (skills examination) is computed by totaling the final objective ratings. Each of the 12 skills areas will be rated. The ratings for each skill will be given on a four-point scale, in which 1 indicates seriously deficient performance and 4 indicates outstanding performance. See the "How to Prepare Documents" located at <http://certification.comptia.org/getCertified/certifications/ctt.aspx> for more detail.

A score of 1 (seriously deficient) on any of the 12 skills being assessed on the recording or on the documentation will cause an automatic failure for the skills examination.

To pass the performance-based exam, two criteria must be met: (1) an averaged total score of at least 36 points must be attained; and (2) a minimum of score of 2 must be attained in each individual competency area. CompTIA CTT+ performance-based exam score report is sent via email within 2-3 weeks from time of the receipt of the recording and payment.

Candidates must pass both CompTIA CTT+ Essentials exam and a performance-based exam to earn CompTIA CTT+ certification.
